

Michael Hoffman, General Manager

Mike has always possessed a passion for landscaping and superior service. His vision for excellence inspires a corporate culture that values a positive attitude, teamwork and dedication. Through his efforts, the company has grown to provide complete property maintenance services, plus provide the many disciplines required for design/build projects - including a national award-winning landscape architecture department, specialists in heavy excavation, talented stone masons, and much more.

The strength of his vision has endured the test of time as Hoffman Landscapes has marked its 25th year, a significant achievement in the landscaping industry. Hoffman Landscapes now serves three counties: Fairfield, Litchfield and Westchester.

All Hoffman staff members—approaching 100 year-round employees—are hired for their specialized expertise and are supported in their professional development. As a result, Hoffman Landscapes enjoys exceedingly low turnover, while providing the finest level of service and commitment to our customers.

Mike attended Clemson University where he studied civil engineering and finance. He has been a Certified Landscape Professional (CLP) since 2000, having demonstrated expert knowledge in all phases of horticulture and landscape management. Mike appeared as the Fine Living Network's landscape expert for two seasons of their home improvement show Simplify Your Life. Mike is a member of PLANET (the Professional Landcare Network), as well as an active supporter of local community projects.
